

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MEDIA CONTACT:

Ashley Braden

Public Relations & Marketing Assistant

Office: 800.311.5365

abraden@in-househospice.com

In-House music therapist elected president of Michigan Music Therapists organization for second term (BINGHAM FARMS, MI) June 1, 2010 - In-House Hospice & Palliative Care music therapist Rebecca Findley, MT-BC, was elected president of the Michigan Music Therapists in April for a second, two-year term.

"I have always felt that it was important to be involved to help promote my field; so when I moved back to Michigan, I began looking for ways to do just that," Findley said.

She has been an active member of the organization's board since 2006, serving as treasurer.

As president, Findley is responsible for presiding over the executive board, promoting music therapy throughout the state and maintaining communication with the Great Lakes Region President.

Findley has been employed at In-House since 2007 and works out of Grand Rapids, where she lives.

For more information about In-House Hospice & Palliative Care, visit www.in-househospice.com or call (800) 311-5365.

In-House Hospice is one of the leading hospice and palliative care providers in Michigan and Ohio serving nearly 500 patients every day. In-House's mission is to provide the highest level of quality care to its patients and was selected by The Detroit Free Press as one of the Top Work Places of 2008 and 2009 for its management team, respect for employees and its commitment to providing one of the best working environments in the state. Headquartered in Bingham Farms, Michigan, it has experienced double-digit growth over the last 11 years and serves patients and their families in more than 40 counties in Michigan and Ohio.

- End -